

Yuvbir Singh
Vice President, Equipment
GE Transportation

Yuvbir Singh is the Vice President of Equipment for GE Transportation. In this role, he is responsible for the global locomotive, mining, marine, stationary and drill portfolios.

Yuvbir has held several leadership positions since joining GE in 1995. He joined GE Transportation in 2015, as the Vice President of Global Locomotive Operations. He was previously General Manager of Engineered Systems at GE Water & Process

Technologies [Part of GE Power & Water], where he oversaw a global team that developed and delivered proven solutions that comprised of an extensive range of projects, products and service offerings. The business comprised of three public companies which were integrated together to form the Engineered Systems portfolio. Prior to that Yuvbir held a variety of roles in different GE businesses, including a stint in Mergers and Acquisitions and Integration. Yuvbir joined GE at GE Fanuc [Part of GE Industrial Systems] in Singapore and worked in several different countries and a variety of commercial, marketing, engineering and product management roles before he moved to the US.

Yuvbir received an Engineering degree in Electronics from the University of Pune, India.